"Bona Fide" Coat & Cape Reductions.

We shall take advantage of the posent cold snap to effect a final clearance of the entire stock of Coats, Capes and Furs. Although these reductions may not seem as extreme as others which are quoted, they are absolutely genuine. Values have not been overstated a single cent. Every Coat and Cape offered below formerly sold for the prices first named. Take these few specials as samples of the reductions which have been made throughout the entire stock:

1 lot of Extra-heavy Boucle Shield-front Reefers, velvet collar, half silk lined. The bona fide $10 value. Reduced to.

4 Fine Melion Cioth Coats, 4ght back, empire front, collar edged with marten, Coat trimmed with handsome braid ornaments in black and navy. The regular $21.50 value.

Golf Capes Reduced.

The Golf Cape is one of the most useful as well as most becoming Capes that were ever shown. Out of a large stock, including n'any cloths and colorings, which we had at the first of the season, we have now scarce a dozen left. They have sold better than any Cape we have ever handled. As we have made our profit on the majority of the stock, we will close out what remains at greatly reduced prices.

Officer Brown's Case to Come Up Wednesday. The trial of Policeman Martin Brown of the eighth precinct on a charge of intoxication will take place Wednesday, before the police trial board. Brown is the officer who was found in the "camp" Friday, apparently under the influence of alcoholic stimulants, and suspended from duty, as published in Saturday's Star. It is denied that the officer had indulged in whisky er other intoxicant such as is usually found in liquor saloons. The officer himself say: that his condition was caused by a dose of medicine given him in a drug store. One of the doctors at Freedman's Hospital, who saw him, went to the police station with him Friday, and said he wanted to see that he got fair play. One of the police sur-geons, who happened to be in the station at the time, was unable to smell liquor on the officer's breath, and he will, of course, the officer's breath, and he will, of course, be a witness in the case.

This affair recalls a case of the kind tried by the trial board several years ago. The officer's defense was that he had gone to a drug store and been given a dose of medicine, and the druggist who gave him the medicine admitted that he had given it to him as a joke. He was acquitted. It is thought that Officer Brown will be able to show where he got his medicine, and that the medicine, and not whisky, intoxicated him.

In the case of Policemen Foley and Evans of the eighth precinct, who were tried a week ago, as published in The Star at the time, the typewritten testimony has not been sent to the Commissioners. The recommendation of the trial board has not yet been made public.
